

Getting to El Questro Homestead

A million acres in size, El Questro is located on the eastern perimeter of the Kimberley Region, and extends for approximately 80 kilometres into the heart of the region, most of which has never been explored. It is one of the last true frontiers. Go barramundi fishing, set out on a horse trek, or explore remote areas by helicopter that only a lucky few have ever seen.

El Questro Wilderness Park is without doubt one of the world's unique holiday destinations. A working cattle station with a herd of approximately 5000 head of cattle, El Questro provides a truly Australian holiday experience. El Questro may be isolated, but it's still quite easy to get there! Here are the options available for you.
